

GLENN HOLLOWAY
913 E. Bailey Road
Naperville, IL 60565

BIOLOGY PROFESSOR SAYS DARWIN GOT IT WRONG
--caption, Chicago Tribune

The Garden We Can't Forget

"Most likely there," he said. "I'm sure it's true."
He pointed to an Old World map, a plain
Where rivers met. "But there were others too,
Nearby and round the globe. All bore
The stain of Eve and Adam's failing; all were equals.
So Genesis, our time on earth began
Incumbent on the pair, the human sequels.
More pairs were made; incest was not the plan.
No quarrel with evolution or the Word:
Sub-beings did descend from those in trees
To walk upright then fade away unheard.
Experiment is one of nature's keys.
Some forms were left to mutate line from line.
But ours was drawn apart-- the Grand Design."

--Glenna Holloway